Ethics Train-the-Trainer

Aylmer West, Ontario, Canada ■ March 14-18, 2005

The Institute for Law Enforcement Administration, a division of The Center for American and International Law, will hold the Ethics Train-the-Trainer course at the Ontario Police College, 10716 Hacienda Road, Aylmer West, Ontario, Canada.

Successful completion of this four and one-half day program will authorize graduates to present the eight hour Law Enforcement Ethics, the sixteen hour Ethics for Field Training Officers, and four hour In-Service Ethics courses within their own agencies or local/regional academies.

THIS COURSE WILL INCLUDE SUCH TOPICS AS:

- Models for Ethical Decision-making
- Identifying Dilemmas and "Stakeholders"
- The Six Pillars of Character and The Principles of Ethical Policing
- The Condition of Society: What Does It Mean to Policing?
- Higher Standards/Different Standards
- Strategies for Creating a Healthy Ethical Environment
- Understanding the Present through the Classics: Teaching Ethics from Solid Ground

COURSE GRADUATES

Since 1993, the Ethics Train-the-Trainer course has graduated over 7,000 law enforcement trainers. Course graduates have been drawn from 750 agencies across the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

COURSE MATERIALS

Persons successfully completing the Ethics Train-the-Trainer course will receive comprehensive lesson plans for the eight hour Law Enforcement Ethics, the sixteen hour Ethics for Field Training Officers, and the four hour In-Service Ethics courses. In addition, masters of overhead transparencies, a PowerPoint presentation disk, ethics scenarios, an ethics game, and a Student Note-taking Guide will be provided.

WHAT ARE GRADUATES SAYING?

"Very positive... lots of class involvement and participation... material is relevant and flows well."

"The materials speak for themselves... very easy to present."

"This course is enjoyable to teach... the subject matter is tailor made to create meaningful discussion."
